

Nancy Burke Artist Statement

My Story

For the Love of Beads

More than 20 years ago I wandered into a bright pink building not knowing what the contents of the shop contained. To my amazement were thousands of beads! After spending a couple of hours “just looking,” I signed up for a class being held the following day. After the class I became a “bead addict.” The rest is history.

I have dabbled in all forms of jewelry creations, teaching and participating in shows. I also enjoy hosting jewelry shows in the comfort of your home. Contact me if you would like more information.